Introduction

Bill Gates
Chief Software Architect
and Chairman of the Board
Microsoft Corporation

John Chambers
President & CEO
Cisco Systems

"Microsoft and Cisco share a common vision of the impact of the Internet and networked applications. We believe our collaboration will have a profound impact on the future of information technology."

"Closer linkages between applications and networks will allow organizations and individuals to customize their Internet usage and experience. Our collaboration with Microsoft will deliver measurable improvement in business processes to our mutual customers."

Mission

Microsoft and Cisco share a vision of the Internet and networked applications as the primary information technology platforms around which organizations will create sustainable competitive advantage in the future. For this vision to be fully realized, the desktop and the network must become better integrated.
